

18th National Energy Conference "Energy & Development 2013"
Athens December 3-4, 2013, Eugenides Foundation

Sponsorship Opportunities & Supporters' Benefits

Most IENE events are open to sponsorship and financial support from businesses and organizations. Sponsors are usually organizations and corporations operating within the broader energy field, (e.g. oil, gas, electricity, renewable energy efficiency). Organizations and companies from other fields such as banking, financial services and law may also become sponsors. The amounts involved in the sponsorship and financial support of IENE events vary and are determined according to the standards and organizational conditions of each event.

The convening of a conference of national and regional importance such as the 18th National Energy Conference, "Energy & Development 2013", requires very high standards of organisation which is a prerequisite for the success of this unique event. Now in its 18th year the "Energy & Development" conference is an established event which attracts hundreds of delegates from Greece and other European countries. In addition there is high level participation from several international organizations including the IEA, the EIB, the Energy Charter, the Energy Community, the European Community etc.

The 18th National Energy Conference "Energy & Development 2013" is open to sponsorship and benefits for potential sponsors and supporters include the following:

- 1. The logo and name of each sponsor or supporter to be displayed in various ways, such as:
 - On the printed announcements which are distributed before the event.
 - On all advertisements that are published in the Press.
 - On the backdrop of the stage and on all banners which are usually located in the areas where the event is being held, as well as on publicity posters.
 - On the event's special pages on the internet, via www.energia.gr and www.iene.gr.
 - On the event's official programme.
 - On all printed matter distributed to delegates.
 - On the folder containing the conference documentation, which is handed out each delegate upon registration

- On the video card projected on the screen during the event.
 - On the cover of the volume containing the conference abstracts and speakers CV's.
2. The possibility for a representative of the sponsor to speak during the event or participate in one of its panel discussions or to coordinate one of its sessions.
 3. The sponsor's name will be mentioned in all press releases which are sent out to the media.
 4. The sponsor's name & logo to appear on the first right-hand page of the volume containing the event's proceedings, or on the cover of the CD with the proceedings, which are published and distributed after the event or alternatively prominently displayed on the special micro site which is created after the event and where are conference presentations are uploaded.
 5. Each sponsor will have the opportunity to distribute printed and electronic material concerning his business' products and activities during the conference. This material may be included in the conference folder if it is in the form of a slim brochure. Otherwise it can be displayed next to the registration desk.
 6. Each sponsor or supporter is entitled to register certain number of participants free of charge in the event, chosen from its executives and associates. The number depends on the level of funding to be provided.
 7. Each sponsor has a right to free advertising space in selected IENE publications.
 8. Each sponsor is entitled to certain months' free inclusion of its logo on IENE's web site.

All the above describe the usual benefits that a sponsor or supporter of the 18th National Energy Conference "Energy & Development 2013" may expect. According to the particular profile of the supporting organisation, it is possible that further benefits may be offered by IENE which are not included in the above list. Such benefits are mentioned in writing in the "Sponsorship" agreement which is usually established between IENE and each Sponsor/Supporter. Interested sponsors or supporters receive first a written proposal with the detailed list of the specific benefits that can be offered by IENE.
